

Website Policy

Updated: September 4, 2024

Pennytel reserves the right to change this Website Policy at any time and notify you by posting an updated version of the Policy on our website. The amended Policy will apply between us whether or not we have given you specific notice of any change. We encourage you to review this Policy periodically because it may change from time to time.

By accessing or using this website you agree to these terms of use, as varied from time to time by Pennytel (we, our, us).

As between you and us, we and our related companies own or license all of the copyright and other intellectual property rights in this website and its content. Our rights are protected by laws in Australia and internationally. You may print or save parts of this website for your personal use provided you include a notice on each copy to show it is our © copyright, and you don't alter the content or the way any of it appears. You must not publish any part of this website in any kind of media, and must not copy or distribute any of it for any commercial purpose, without our prior written consent. Unauthorised copying, publication or distribution of part or all of the content of this website is prohibited.

The trademarks on our websites are protected by law. They include: Pennytel, Pennytel Australia and the Pennytel logo. You must not use any of our trade marks without our prior written consent.

We are not responsible for any error or omission on this website and reserve the right to make changes without notice.

If this website provides a link to a website owned or operated by someone else, we don't control those websites or endorse the content on them. You access and use those websites, their content, and the products and services advertised on them at your own risk. You are welcome to place a link to this website provided your website does not seek to damage our reputation, or falsely represent a relationship with us which you don't have. For example, your website must not represent or imply that you are affiliated with us or authorised to sell our services unless you are an authorised channel partner or affiliate partner for those services. You must remove the link to this website if we ask you.

We aim to keep the information on this website up to date and accurate but we don't guarantee that it always is. Also, please keep in mind that much of the information is given as general guidance only and may not apply to your situation.
