Actual speeds may be lower and vary due to factors including your nbn technology, line distance, equipment, in-home wiring, Wi-Fi conditions, network congestion and the destination of the traffic. Wi-Fi connections are typically slower than wired connections.

 The nbn 1000 / 400 plan is a newer speed tier. Typical evening speed information will be published once sufficient data is available.

Static IP and CG-NAT

Pennytel NBN services use CG-NAT by default. A Static IP may be needed for services such as self-hosted servers, port forwarding or some remote-access devices.

Services not included

Pennytel Fixed Line NBN Residential Plans do not include:

- a modem/router, unless separately purchased;
- a voice or telephone service;
- battery backup; or
- Priority Assistance.

4. Power outages, emergency calling and connected devices

This broadband service does not include a voice or telephone service.

If you use a separate internet-based phone or VoIP service over your Pennytel NBN connection, it may not work during a:

- power outage;
- broadband or nbn network outage;
- equipment failure; or
- loss of internet connectivity.

This may prevent you from calling 000 using that separate phone service.

If you or another person relies on uninterrupted access to emergency calling, maintain an appropriate alternative means of communication, such as a charged mobile phone.

Medical alarms, security alarms and other connected devices

Before connecting to an nbn service, check with your medical alarm, security alarm or other device provider whether the device will work over the nbn network and during a power outage.

5. Billing, usage information and itemised bills

- Pennytel Fixed Line NBN Residential Plans are postpaid services.
- Charges and inclusions are metered on a monthly billing cycle from the 28th of each month to the 27th of the following month.
- Service charges start from the day your service is activated. If your service is activated part-way through a billing cycle, your first bill may include a pro-rata charge for the period from your activation date to the 27th of that month; and the next month's plan charge in advance.
- This means your first bill may be higher than your standard monthly plan charge.
- Invoices are generally issued after the billing cycle starts and sent to your nominated email address. Direct debit from a bank account or payment card is Pennytel's default payment method.
- You can access available account, bill and service information through the Pennytel Customer Portal.
- You may request an itemised bill for any current or past billing period. Pennytel provides itemised bills by email at no charge. If you request a printed and mailed itemised bill, Pennytel may charge a paper bill fee where that fee has been disclosed to you and is permitted by law.
- See Pennytel's Billing & Refunds Information, Payment Assistance Policy and other applicable policies at www.ennytel.com.au/legal.

6. Changes, support and complaints

Pennytel may change prices, terms, services or offers in accordance with its General Terms and applicable law. Where Pennytel reasonably considers that a change is likely to have more than a minor adverse impact on you, Pennytel will provide at least 14 days' written notice before the change takes effect, unless a shorter notice period is permitted or required under the General Terms or applicable law.
